

Joshua A. Davies received his B.S. degree in chemistry from Simon Fraser University (British Columbia) in 2003. He is currently a doctoral candidate at the University of Washington department of chemistry, and plans to graduate in 2008. Current research interests include design, synthesis, and characterization of electrooptic materials. (updated 2007)